Alex English Music LLC

Based in New Jersey/NYC area, Alex English is a solo female singer/songwriter with strong vocals and an even stronger drive to compose.

Alex states “That do-it-yourself spirit is really important to me because it allows you to be your own person... When you rely only on yourself, you can push past boundaries and rise to be everything you are capable of.” With this in mind, Alex went on to earn multiple degrees and certifications in business and audio engineering. She continues to push through boundaries as a woman; writing, singing, producing, mixing, and mastering all of her own tracks.

In doing this, Alex’s original music has landed publishing deals and placements around the globe.

Alex graduated with her undergraduate BBA degree from Pace University’s Lubin School of Business majoring in Arts & Entertainment Management as well as completing an MBA in Marketing Management. She is also an RSL certified Grade 8 music producer with her preferred DAW, Ableton.

The Voice has also approached Alex English multiple times, however Alex politely declined as she prefers to focus on her original music and education pursuits.

Alex English’s songs are available on all streaming and purchasing sites.

Message from Alex:

Thank you so much for taking the time to visit my website and read a little bit about me! I hope to see you at one of my shows one day and thank you for supporting original music! <3
